

Relationship breakdown housing advice

Housing rights in a relationship breakdown can be complicated and you may need to seek legal advice.

If you have a joint tenancy or own a property with your ex partner you may still have rights to occupy the place you are living in together.

To check what your rights are, contact Cumberland Council's Housing Options Service on Tel: 0300 373 3730

Where else can I go for housing help and advice?

There are several places you could visit:

Shelter has produced a guide for people who have experienced a relationship breakdown and what their housing rights are after splitting up. Shelter can also be contacted by telephone: 0344 515 1944.

Citizens Advice Bureau - for general and legal advice and help. Telephone: 0330 0553352.

If you've decided that you need to find a new home, you may to register on the housing register at www.cumbriachoice.org.uk
