St Bees Parish Council considered this application at its meeting last night. The Parish Council has significant concerns about the application. The application describes this as a hedge but it is actually a collection of small trees, some thought to be large enough to be treated as individual trees rather than hedging. There are also concerns about the timing of the proposed work as we are now into spring and the bird nesting season. The Parish Council would encourage Cumberland Council to seek specialist advice on this application, taking into account the Parish Council's concerns.
