Dear Chris,

Many thanks for your assistance with this. Please find attached the updated application form amended to reflect the soakaway status.

I hereby confirm the following written statement:

The land known as Plot H at Whitehaven Cumbria, is an area of unused waste ground. The application area consists of approximately 1 Acre of land that is made up of hard ground. The ground is of a granular material with no formal drainage system in place. Surface water permeates through the ground. Our application does not seek to install any structures, but to use the land for the storage of vessels and associated equipment. The use of the ground will not materially change how surface water soaks away through the granular surface.

Dan McKiernan, Director Whitehaven Marina Ltd 26-02-'24

Many thanks Chris,

Dan
